Worl man being tested for flu

57-Year-Old Had Mild Fever After Mexico Visit. Officials Say No Cause For Alarm

Mumbai: A 57-year-old Worl resident, who recently returned from Mexico, has been tested for influenza A (H1N1) infection. Officials say there is no cause for alarm.

According to the World Health Organization, the virus was diagnosed after the patient visited a hospital in Mumbai. The patient had traveled to Mexico on April 23 and returned on April 29.

"The patient is being monitored closely," said a doctor at the hospital. "We have sent samples to a laboratory for further testing."
